

Columbia Pike Artist Studios
932 S. Walter Reed Drive
Arlington, VA 22204
columbiapikeartiststudios.org

April 10, 2018

For immediate release:

EIGHTEEN MEMBERS OF ARTIST CO-OP TO EXHIBIT NEW WORK AT OPEN STUDIOS

What: Columbia Pike Artist Studios, an artist cooperative in South Arlington, VA, will offer for sale over 100 works by artists working across media (painting, drawing, photography, printmaking, and sculpture).

Who: 18 Members of Columbia Pike Artist Studios
Sarah Bentley, Rhys Conlon, Deb Cerie, Roberta Gottesman Anne Hancock, Carl Lennartson, Barry Lindley, Sharon Malley, Susan McElhinney, Nan Morrison, Kimberley Murphy-Lyons, Robbie Namy, Morgan Johnson Norwood, M. M. Panas, Joe Spollen, Janis Sweeney, Alice Whealin, and Vladimir Zabavskiy

When: Saturday, May 12, 2018, from 6:00–9:00 p.m.

Columbia Pike Artist Studios will open its doors for a behind-the-scenes showcase of recent work by eighteen of its members. The artists, some of whom are new and some of whom have been with the co-operative organization since its founding in 1989, approach a wide range of subject matter and employ highly individualized styles. All of the artists will be available to discuss their processes and answer questions. Their paintings, drawings, sculptures, prints, and photographs will be available for purchase, and refreshments will be served.

Where:

Columbia Pike Artist Studios
932 S. Walter Reed Drive, Second Floor
Arlington, VA 22204

Parking: CPAS parking is located at the end of 9th Road South, behind the McDonald's parking lot, and is identified by a large sign that reads, "No Fringe Parking." For this event, visitors can also park at the Arlington Career Center, 816 S. Walter Reed Drive.

Public Transportation: ART and city buses serve the intersection of Columbia Pike and Walter Reed Drive.

This event is FREE and open to the public.

Press Inquiries

Rhys Conlon
rhysconlon@gmail.com / 646.505.8925

Kimberley Murphy-Lyons
kimberley.lyons@verizon.net